

2017 LADOIX BLANC

DOMAINE JACOB, LADOIX-SERRIGNY, BURGUNDY, FRANCE

THE WINE:

100% Chardonnay from a one hectare plot of 25-year-old vines. Hand-picked fruit, double sorted and temperature controlled fermentation. One year in 33% new oak and 67% two year-old French oak. Only 400 cases produced. The 2017 vintage for Burgundy was exceptional. High quality Chardonnay fruit with strong yields resulted in a wonderful wine from most appellations.

THE ESTATE:

The Jacob family has been producing wines for four generations with Raymond as the head winemaker, his son Damien is training to eventually take over the Estate. The vines are spread out across six appellations with the estate located in the village of Ladoix-Serrigny. All grapes are grown with traditional Burgundian techniques and without the use of pesticides. The Estate vineyard in Ladoix sits at the base of the Corton Hill and its Grand Cru vineyards are a stone's throw from the winery.

TASTING NOTES:

Color: deep straw gold

Aromas: citrus and apple fruit with a honey and lemon curd note

Flavor & Texture: crystallized ginger with Meyer lemon lead to rich and full palate brimming with lifted acids

Food Pairing: lightly breaded Petrale sole with a lemon, caper, garlic, and white wine sauce
